HEIFER CLUB'S GOOD WORK

Boys Have Forty-two Short-horn Heifers to Be Sold In The Fall.

NICE PROFIT REALIZED

Planters Bank & Trust Co., Will Renew and Double Offer.

Last spring the Planters Bank & Trust Co., bought 42 Shorthorn heifers and sold them at cost to 42 boys of the "Heifer Club," taking their notes for them to be paid in 6 months. All of these heifers have lived and increased in value and weight and they will be sold at public auction this fall, the notes paid and the difference will be paid to the boys as profits. Some of the calves increased in weight as much as 400 pounds and the boys will clear from $25 to $50 dollars on them. All of them have been bred and will be sold as springers.

In addition to the legitimate profits, three of the boys will be awarded special prizes for the condition in which the calves are found to be. The first, second and third are $10, $7.50 and $5 respectively.

The officials of the bank are so well pleased with the experiment to promote the breeding of Shorthorns in the county, that they will renew the offer next year for 80 heifers to be placed on the same conditions. The date of the sale will be announced soon.

John H. White sues the American Express Co. for $200. He says in his petition that on Aug. 20 last, he delivered to the defendant at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., a thoroughbred filly colt to be brought here. He further alleges that the colt should have reached Hopkinsville Aug. 23, but did not arrive until the night of Aug. 26, and that the animal was kept on the road such an unreasonable length of time that it became sick and reached here in a badly damaged condition.

The furniture has been made like new and from 25 to 30 girls are confidently expected to be on hand Wednesday.

PASSPORTS FOR LUXBURG

Minister Told to Go at Once ---Berlin Expected to Place Onus on Him.

Buenos Ayers, Sept. 14.—The downtown section of the city was the scene of the wildest disorders Wednesday night in connection with the great anti-German demonstrations in which thousands of Argentinians took part. Many of those in the mobs carried firebrands and as a result scores of buildings were set on fire and several blocks of German business houses were destroyed.

Among the structures attacked were the German club, one of the finest edifices in the city, and the building of the German daily La Union. As fast as the fires in these buildings were extinguished they were started again. Mounted patrols and the entire fire department kept rushing from one part of the city to another in an attempt to quell the riots and put down the flames. In several instances police who were attempting to shoot at those wielding torches were set upon by the crowds and disarmed.

The German legation and German newspaper buildings were stoned. There was serious rioting and mounted police charged the mobs in the fashionable Avenida Florida.

The Argentine government sent to the legation passports to be delivered to Count Karl von Luxburg, the German Minister in Buenos Aires, involved in the scandal over transmission of war information to Berlin through the Swedish legation.

Large Number of Fish Killed By Explosion Thursday Night.

The big lake near Crofton was dynamited Thursday night and a large number of fish were killed. Three men in a Ford car were seen to drive to the lake and stop. The authorities here were notified of the dynamiting and every effort will be made to find out who committed the offense and bring them to justice.

"Minnehaha" Carried Munitions on Twenty-Six Trips ---Race Horse Lost.

New York, Sept. 14.—News was received here from England that the Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha, which had made 26 voyages between New York and London carrying 16,000 tons of munitions and supplies on each trip, was sunk by a submarine last Friday, a short distance off the coast of Ireland and that fifty of her officers and crew were lost. The Minnehaha left here five weeks ago, delivered her cargo safely in London, and was on her way to this port with a small quantity of general cargo and a race horse valued at $30,000 when she was destroyed.

The Minnehaha was commanded by Captain Frank Claret who is a commander in the naval reserve. She was one of a group of six steamships escorted by destroyers through the danger zone.

The Minnehaha was struck in the engine room on the starboard side, the report said, the explosion killing several of the engine room force and men in the stokehole as well as seamen on deck. She had a crew of 140 men all told. Of the fifty who were lost some were said to have been drowned in getting away in the boats.

FOLLOWING THE FLAG.

Mark Cunningham, Aubrey Woodruff, Porter Piercy are in the line of promotion, while Stanley White and Marvin Wyatt are officers with bright prospects. We expect good reports from our doctors.

Mack Hopson, the garage man of this city, reached home last Thursday afternoon from Chicago, where he took the examination for the aviation corps of the United States Army. He was one of four out of fifteen examined at the time who passed the required examination, and was sworn in and is now awaiting orders to report for training. He will be called within the next few weeks, and will go into training for three months. He will rank as First Lieutenant if he makes good in the training and enters the service.

TRIUMPH OF POOLED BRAINS

"Liberty" Engine in Final Tests Is Success, Secretary Baker Announces.

INVENTED IN HOTEL ROOM

American Birdmen, Equipped With Super-machines, Will Fill Skies of France.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The Liberty motor, the aeroplane upon which the United States is relying to defeat the Germans on the battlefields of France, has passed its final test and is a complete and gratifying success, Secretary Baker announced. In his statement Secretary Baker told how all the best brains and business of American motordom had contributed its secrets and achievements to the government to produce the Liberty motor which is to carry the thousands of American airplanes over Germany. "Probably the war has produced no greater single achievement," the statement says, and relates for the first time the story of the construction of the new motor which has added a thrilling chapter to American engineering records.

Secretary Baker says the motor is "now the main reliance of the United States in the rapid production in large numbers of high power battle planes for service in the war."

For obvious reasons specifications of the motor, details of its performance under tests and arrangements made for its production in quantity are withheld. In conclusion, however, Mr. Baker says: "Progress has already been made toward organizing the industry for the manufacturing the new machines and deliveries will begin in a comparatively short time."

Back of that announcement stands the fact that American aviators in high powered American built machines will begin to appear in large numbers on the fighting lines next year.

Secretary Baker coupled with his announcement a formal request to the press of the country to refrain from publication of any information regarding the Liberty motor other than that included in his statement.

ALL OFF WITH KORNILOFF

Minister of Labor Says Headquarters of Rebel War Chief Has Given Up.

COUP WAS A BIG FAILURE

Korniloff's Offer to Surrender Was Refused, Must Suffer Severe Penalty.

General Korniloff's rebellion against Premier Kerensky apparently has been quelled, like other attempts that have been made to overthrow the provisional government in Russia. Official reports from Petrograd say that Korniloff's headquarters has surrendered and that Korniloff himself desires conditionally to place himself in the hands of the authorities. The government, however, demands his abject capitulation.

Meanwhile troops that had answered the call of revolt issued by Korniloff, continue to desert his ranks and return to the government fold, declaring that they were misled by Korniloff's professed aims.

Kerensky has been confirmed by the cabinet as commander-in-chief of the army and will have with him as chief of staff in his prosecution of the war against the Teutonic allies, General Alexieff, former commander-in-chief and one of the most brilliant officers in the Russian army. Added strength is also expected to be given Kerensky's rule by the appointment of new military officials for the district and city of Petrograd.

U.S. TO CONTROL PACKING PLANTS

Offer to Put Business Under Licensing System is Approved by Hoover.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Government regulation of the packing industry will be the next move of the food administration. A voluntary offer of representatives of the packers to put their plants under a licensing system made to Herbert Hoover, the food administrator, at a conference here today, was acted upon and a plan of control will be drawn up shortly.

The packers, numbering about a score, came to Washington to talk with Mr. Hoover about the threatened meat shortage and the subject of rising prices. They are of one opinion that prices can be brought down little unless a determined effort is made to increase the production of live stock. The great export demand, they believe, will maintain prices at high level until long after the war has ended.

A licensing system for packing houses was provided in the food control bill. Putting it into operation will go far toward eliminating hoarding and speculation and stabilizing prices, is believed by food administration officials. The packers will confer soon with cattle growers to discuss the food administration's plan for removing herds from the west to better feeding districts in the east and south.

Increased production of live stock is a military necessity, Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, declared in a statement after the packers' meeting ended. "The keeping of more live stock was highly desirable before the war," said Mr. Vrooman. "Now it is a national necessity, first because of the terrible dearth of meat animals, not only in this country, but throughout the world; second, because no further waste of feeds must be permitted, and the only thing that can prevent waste on the farm is the production of more live stock."

"The fact that keeping more live stock is a military necessity does not mean that it is any the less a good business. The farmer should not lose this golden opportunity to cash in his waste forage at war prices."

The Administration Trading with the Enemy Bill, which passed the House without a dissenting vote last July, passed the Senate with many amendments, including one giving the President power to embargo imports, and prohibiting publication of war comment in the German language unless accompanied in a parallel column by a translation in English.

A marked decrease in the destruction of British merchant vessels by mines or submarines is indicated in the weekly admiralty statement issued this week. Twelve vessels of more than 1600 tons and six of less than 1600 tons were sent to the bottom, as compared with twenty in the large and three in the small category sunk the previous week. The statement shows that four fishing vessels also were lost. This is the smallest results for any week since February.

Drafting of all aliens in the United States except Germans, others exempt by treaty, and those of countries allied with Germany, who have resided in this country one year, is proposed in a joint resolution passed by the senate and sent to the house. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 aliens will be affected. Under the resolution by Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, subjects of the allies or neutrals claiming treaty exemption would be allowed to leave the country within ninety days.

The entire American sugar industry will be placed under government control October 1, the food administration announced Thursday night, by the installation of a licensing system to include manufactures, refining and imports. The step was decided on with the approval of President Wilson to prevent speculative prices and to secure stability. Institution of the licensing system will prevent hoarding and will insure a stabilized price, according to food administration officials. Within a short time the food administration will announce a price at which wholesale sugar should be delivered to all the consuming centers.

CUPID'S NEW WEAPON

By LOIS CRAYTON.

All day he had watched her on the trail as the horses wound around high, rocky cliffs, across tracts of shale and through deep valleys. Hedgeman, the lender, who knew the country well, went ahead; then came the venturesome spirits, ready to take risks of slides and places on narrow ledges, where pieces of rock might have fallen away since the last ranger passed on his lonely patrol.

But the mountain ponies were sure-footed—too sure-footed, for they went close to the edge sometimes. The horse the girl rode insisted on walking as far away from the cliff as possible.
The man kept his eye on the girl.
Most of the time her left foot was dangling over space, but she gave no sign that she was afraid.

When night came they camped in a valley, and after supper most of the weary souls crawled into bed. A few still lingered, however, around the great fire. The man and the girl sat apart talking.

"You are not afraid of anything, are you?" he said.

She laughed. "Goodness, yes—spiders and mice, measles and burglars."

"I doubt it!"

"What did I do to make you think I was—brave?"

"Most girls would have screamed or fainted when that horse went so close to the edge."

"And I kept quiet. That was only the instinct of self-preservation. I didn't want to scare him."

"That isn't true, I'm afraid. I insist on giving you the palm of courage."

"And I insist that I am as much of a coward as anybody."

"What are you afraid of, then?"

"I told you—burglars for one thing."

"And?"

"You for another."

"Me?"

"Yes. You insist on dragging my fallings out into daylight and analyzing them. I suppose you'll soon discover that I'm fond of vegetable soup and hate to use semicolons, and that incidentally these riding boots have rubbed my stockings into tatters."

"I'd forgotten. You must be dead tired." He got up instantly and helped her to her feet. "Go to bed now and be fresh for new worlds tomorrow."

He pressed her hand warmly and was gone.

They were together a great deal after that; they rode side by side when possible, sat together at meals, and had splendid campfire talks. He insisted on calling her brave as each day brought new risks which she took without flinching.

The trip came to an end; the man took train for Seattle, the girl went east, and the party scattered in all directions.

The girl's family had not come home from Canada and she undertook the opening of the townhouse.

She had long, quiet evenings alone after busy days, and she lived over her wonderful time in the mountains.

There were camera views to go over,
some of the men. "He's so different from most men," she mused, "so big.
He's been all over the world, he says.
I suppose he builds bridges and tunnels mountains and constructs dams and aqueducts, for he would never be content to spend his time doing little things."

One evening, after looking through her travel book again, she decided to go to bed. Hulda, the cook, had gone to her room on the third floor, and she was alone. She made a round of the rooms, fastened windows, snapping on locks and turning out lights.

Then she returned to the library to switch off the table light before going upstairs.

And there stood a man with a black mask over his face and an automatic ready for action.

"Oh!" said the girl, standing quite still.

"Keep quiet," said the intruder, "and I won't hurt you."

And the girl kept very quiet; in truth, she slipped in a heap to the floor, for she had fainted.

"I'm a fool!" A man's voice was the first thing she heard when her senses came back. She was on a couch and Hulda was rubbing her face and hands. She thought she knew the voice.

The girl sat up. "You!" she cried.
"Yes, I!" said the man grimly, the man with whom she had traveled over 300 miles of mountains.

"And here I've been thinking you did big, wonderful things to help the world, and you're a—"

"A burglar? No, I'm not really.
Listen. I just got back from the West today—this evening—and I couldn't go to sleep until I had located your house.
It was too late to come in, but I just wanted to know where you lived.
When I was passing I saw a man working at the side window, so I got the corner policeman and we nabbed him.
Then I thought of something, just a fool notion of mine to test your courage further, for I didn't believe you when you said you were afraid of burglars. You know what it was. I played burglar. Forgive me!"

"And I played baby," she said, ashamed.

"You are adorable, and I love you,"
said the man.

"Then it's all right," sighed the girl happily, "but it's the first time I ever knew Cupid to use a gun."

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described As Torture
Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and felt off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Thedford's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Thedford's Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work.

To Utilize Sugar.

If the sugar planters of the West Indies are wise they will pay more attention to fruit as a concomitant have proved so profitable in the north-

FLASHLIGHTS

Unless you are doing your bit your country isn't as strong as it might be.

A woman may call it just a cheap little hat, but it's a clench that her husband could have bought himself four hats for the same money.

The other fellow doesn't cut much figure with us until we have made a mistake that we want someone to share the blame for.

What answer do you make to people who never stay home, when they ask you, who also never get a chance to stay home, why you haven't been around to call on them lately?

The way some of our young folks have been hunking off to get marriage licenses nowadays one would think the papers had never printed a word about the high cost of living.

QUAKER QUIPS

Every man who enlists hopes to be pushed to the front.

Do it now. It's never too early to mend.

In considering your country's need,
don't be weak-kneed yourself.

A plain duty is always more attractive after it has been dressed up a bit.

Every man should do his bit, but mighty few are clamoring for two bits' worth.

The man who merries for money is apt to express his affection C. O. D.

As a general rule when a man marries his stenographer he ceases to dictate to her.—Philadelphia Record.

The Schoolgirl's Mind.

The mind of a schoolgirl does not proceed like the mind of an adult; it imitates the motions of a grasshopper.
It sings in the summer, it dances in the winter, it transforms values, it doubts axioms, it is dogmatic upon im-possibilities or what seem such to the adult mind, it comprehends dreams into a creed, it has intuitions like the flash of an electric candle, or it plays the bnt, shuts its eyes tight in broad daylight, folds its wings, hooks on to any convenient excuse, and goes fast asleep.—H. D. Sedgwick, in the Atlantic Magazine.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

IN 1917

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe is now half way into its third year, and, whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest for many a month to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN (Tri-weekly,) together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Origin of Moon in Doubt.

Many theories of the origin of the moon have been advanced, but all seem to present some difficulties. Our satellite furnishes us many unsolved problems. A belief in the meteoric origin of the moon is now quite general. According to this belief the earth was surrounded in the early stages of its existence by a ring of meteoric matter. The material forming the ring gradually gathered into one mass, our present moon, whose pitted face gives evidence of the bombardment it received from meteoric masses within the ring. According to this theory our satellite has always been a dead world, a cold and lifeless mass of meteoric rock. It has never felt the pulse of life or undergone the mighty changes that have passed over its ruling planet. It has remained a cold and silent witness to vast evolutionary processes going on upon a neighboring world such as it could never experience for itself.

COMMAND "WENT" FOR BOTH

Indiana Woman's Sharp Order Scared Junkman as Well as Dog That Was Digging Up Garden.

There is a woman in Irvington who is certainly in bad with a junk man, all on account of a dog. It was not her dog, nor yet the junk man's, which makes the case sadder than ever. The dog belongs to a neighbor, and must be the reincarnation of Captain Kidd or some other pirate, for his whole existence seems to be spent in seeking for buried treasure. As pirate treasure was always buried in the most unlikely places, that is where he digs. Nobody but a pirate or a dog would look for treasure very far below the surface of an onion bed, for instance, but the digging that dog did made the Irvington woman's onion bed look like a model of the Hindenburg line just after it was broken. The dog was "sedulously engaged in his terrestrial explorations," as they would say it in Irvington, when the woman saw him from the window. Rushing to the door, she shrieked, "Get out of here!" at the top of what is naturally a soft and cooing voice. Instead of one scramble there were two, and a junk man, until then unnoticed, passed through the open back gate just half a jump ahead of the dog, both going strong. It was more than a minute before the voice of the junk man was heard in the siren song, "Ra-a-agsol-l-?-diron," and even at the distance it betrayed a decided tremolo. — Indianapolis News.

TOO STRENUOUS.

"Movin' Fido?"

"Yes, I'm goin' to change into some family what ain't got seven small boys."

MORE ON HAND.

Her Admirer—Your sister has such beautiful hair.
H. Small Brother—You haven't seen a quarter of it yet.

STUNG.

Stella—Was Jack wounded at the front, then?
Maud—No; he came home on leave, and sat on a wasp's nest.

WILLING TO RISK IT.

Surgeon—Do you carry accident insurance?
Victim—No, but go ahead and operate; I'll take a chance.

CYNICAL.

"What a good, sensible girl Miss Nellie is."
"Yes; that is the reason the men keep away from her."

POOR HAND.

Cholly—Your daughter is my queen and I her king.
Hed Dad—Take her. A pair of jacks is more serviceable.

THE REASON.

"I saw a man just now fairly choking with anger."
"Perhaps he had to swallow his words."

ECONOMIZING.

"Are you doing anything to save the food supply?"
"Well, we've given up keeping goldfish."

ANSWERED UNDER PRESSURE.

Alice—What did you say when he asked you if you loved him?
Edith—I refused to answer at first, but he squeezed it out of me.

CLEVER DOG.

"My dog can scent a storm hours off."
"Then his nose must be something of a storm separator."

HOME PARADISE TO ADAM

By Home Buying the Consumer Helps Not Only His Town, but Helps Himself—Every Man With a Heart Loves Home and Town—Some Should Be Conscience Stricken.

[Copyrighted, 1914, by Thomas J. Sullivan.]
Only the home can found a state. It is the seminary of all other institutions. There is magic in that little word home. It is a mystic circle that surrounds comforts and virtues never known beyond its hallowed limits.

We need not power or splendor.
Wide hall or lordly dome.
The good, the true, the tender—
These form the wealth of home.

Destroying Your Paradise.

The retail mail order houses are trying to destroy your home and your paradise by inducing you to buy your necessities from them instead of your local merchants, to the injury of your home industries, home market and home town.

There is so much difference in buying goods of a home place of business and ordering them by mail from a catalogue house from a mere picture or description that I want to point out a few facts that many may never have thought of.

May Examine and Select.

At the home store you make your wants known; the salesman shows you the desired article, helps select or suggest the article best suited to your needs.

Thus you have an opportunity to examine the quality, to see the style, to select the size and color, as the case may be; you can compare the different grades, and then if everything is satisfactory and in your judgment the price is right you will make the purchase.

Will Exchange or Refund.

When you get home and upon a rigid examination you find a flaw or mar on your purchase, or the article may be too large or too small, or a black instead of a blue, then the next day or the week after you go to your dealer and explain, and he will gladly exchange the item or refund the money.

BRAVE SINGER.

Schumann-Heink Saves Boy's Life By Sucking Snake Bite Poison.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 14.—Braving death, Mme. Schumann-Heink herself sucked poison of a rattlesnake from the arm of little Carlo Gunzales at Wenden Monday night.

The boy was brought to Phoenix for medical attention. The diva came to Wenden to bid her son, Fred Schumann, good bye, as he left for war, and sang at the Red Cross benefit concert Sunday night. The day after her son left for the training camp, his wife was bitten by a scorpion. Little Carlo, a lad employed on the Schumann ranch, six miles north of Wenden, went out to kill a rattler, it being his plan to use snake venom as an antidote to the scorpion bite from which Mrs. Fred Schuman was suffering. The rattler struck child in the wrist just as he stooped to pick up the supposedly dead snake. He was taken to the ranch house, where the great singer herself sucked the poison from the wound.

Cold Snap Ends.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The present cold snap, extending from the Mississippi River eastward to the Atlantic coast and South as far as Virginia, is expected to moderate by Wednesday, when the Weather Bureau predicts a general rise in temperature will be felt.

There were general frosts this morning from the Upper Mississippi Valley eastward to the New England states and as far south as the district of Columbia and Northern Virginia.

Massachusetts Corn Nipped.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 14.—Eighty per cent. of the bumper corn crop of New England was destroyed by the two nights of frost of this week and squash, beans and tomatoes suffered in a proportionate degree, according to an estimate tonight by Wilfrid Wheeler, secretary of the state board of agriculture.

Manufacturing establishments numbered 4184 in 1914, a decrease of 600 over 1900.

Jew Soldiers.

New York, Sept. 24.—What is said to be the largest military force of Jews ever assembled at one camp in this country, will be at Camp Upton, Yaphank, Long Island, on the Day of Atonement, which falls on Sept. 26, and arrangements have been made by Major General J. Franklin Bell to grant furloughs to the members of the faith who desire to observe the day.

It is estimated that 5,000 Jews will be in camp by that time. Field services will be held at the camp next Monday and Tuesday in celebration of the New Year.

Religion of Congressmen.

In the lower House of Congress there are eighteen different churches represented by the membership of that body, divided as follows:

80 Methodists, 57 Presbyterians, 31 Episcopalians, 26 Baptists, 24 Catholics, 20 Congregationalists, 20 Christians, 7 Lutherans, 4 Unitarians, 4 Dutch Reformers, 3 Protestant Episcopalians, 3 Jews, 2 Quakers, 2 Norwegian Lutherans, 1 True Life Christian, 1 Menonite, 1 United Brethren, 1 Christian Scientist, and 10 who are members of no church nor do they have any settled religious convictions.

Hot Shot For Chattell.

Prof. John R. Chattell wrote Congressman Bathrick, of Ohio, asking him to support a proposal that no drafted man be sent abroad without his consent. Mr. Bathrick in a hot reply said:

"I am writing the president of Columbia University a request that you may have a freer hand to join Emma Goldman and the rest of the I. W. W. You will then not be so dangerous to your country as you are while using the letterheads of the great and honored Columbia University to propagate sedition and other kinds of trouble for your country during the present war."

German Aviator Star Killed.

Amsterdam, Sept. 14.—Lieut. Walter Hoeftendorf has been killed accidentally on the Western front, according to an announcement in German newspapers. Hoeftendorf was reputed to be Germany's best aviator after Boelke and Immelmann, both of whom were killed on the western front.

The October Woman's Home Companion.

Articles and fiction which stimulate and entertain are part of the October Woman's Home Companion. "American Children," by Agnes Repplier; "The Women Go To War," by Ida M. Tarbell; "Uncle Sam's Camp Meeting" and "Cutting the Coal Bill" are only a few of the useful articles.

The fiction includes the first installment of a new serial entitled "Flaming Knight," by Grace S. Richmond; and stories by Peter Clark Macfarlane, Sophie Kerr, Walter A. Dyer, and Laura Miller. The regular departments for younger readers, the cooking, picture and fashion sections are all up to the usual standard, making a well rounded number.

Killing frosts were reported in Wisconsin Sept. 11.

1,000 appeals for exemption have already reached the President.

COULD STAMP OUT LEPROSY

Investigator of Opinion That Disease Might Be Eliminated From Japan at Small Cost.

Japan has done much to fight the ravages of leprosy, but plans to do much more in the way of furnishing hospitals for lepers. Leprosy for a long time has been considered hereditary by the Japanese, leading often to the rupture of marriage engagements, to divorces, and also to the complete disappearance from society of the afflicted man or woman. Doctor Koda, who is conducting an investigation declares that of 942 patients examined by him, only 255, or 27 per cent, have fellow sufferers in their own family. He believes that the disease is not hereditary in the sense that insanity is hereditary. It cannot, he says, skip a generation and appear in the grandchildren. He considers the shunning and isolation of leprosy families unnecessary. Only the individual patients must be segregated, he believes. In Japan there are 23,800 lepers registered, but the families involved aggregate 990,000 persons. About 1,000 persons are now segregated. Doctor Koda declares it would cost only the price of a new battleship to inaugurate a thorough isolation policy, and thinks that in this way the disease could be stamped out, at least as a family curse, within twenty years.

HAVE NO RIGHT TO NAME

Poland-China Hogs Allowed to Retain Cognomen Because They Had Been Long So Called.

The Poland-China hog originated in Butler and Warren counties, O. In 1816 the Society of Shakers in Warren county, brought some breeding hogs from Philadelphia. Some of them were pure white and others white, with black spots. They were represented to the Shakers as of pure Chinese blood and were called Big Chinas. The descendants of these hogs were widely distributed in Warren and Butler counties and were known by different names, among others as Poland-Chinas, because it was said they had been crossed with a Poland breed. They were also called Magees. In 1872 a committee which had been appointed to investigate the origin of the breed reported its findings to the National Swine Breeders' congress. This committee reported against the theory that the Chinas had been crossed with Polands, but as the name Poland-China had been adopted and was in general use, the committee advised that it be retained, and it was. The name Magee never represented a rival breed of hogs, but was one of the names by which the Poland-Chinas were sometimes called. The Ohio Poland-China Record was organized in 1877, the Central Poland-China association in 1880, and in 1906 these two associations amalgamated as the National Poland-China Record Company.

"Who the blazes wants to get out of army?" shot back the fiery Frasca. "Ah wants to get one of them papers that jest makes mah ole man support mah wife and kid while ah go fight."

The doctor tried to keep a straight face, but told him he didn't have any of "those papers" on hand.—Philadelphia Ledger.

ABANDON FOOD PREJUDICES

Don't Be Finicky

Be willing to try new foods. Certain plentiful and nourishing foods widely used and enjoyed in one section are practically unknown in other sections of the country. Learn to know ALL the good things; not a few only.

People too easily get into food ruts—insist on eating only the food they are used to and refuse to give a fair trial to others. This causes undue demand for certain staples, with resulting scarcity or high prices when crops are short. At the same time other valuable foods may be relatively cheap and available. A striking instance of this is failure fully to appreciate rice—a valuable source of starch—when potatoes are scarce and high. Another example is refusal in certain sections to use anything but wheat as a breadstuff when corn—a valuable cereal widely used elsewhere as a breadstuff—is plentiful and relatively cheap.

Cook Food Properly

Learn how to cook all kinds of staple foods and to serve them in a variety of ways. Simple dishes well prepared are better than expensive foods badly cooked.

Many persons are prejudiced against certain good foods because, when first tried, the foods were improperly cooked or prepared.

Remove from your vocabulary "don't like" or "can't eat."

Most individual prejudices against widely popular foods either imaginary or baseless.

Try to like every simple food; give it a fair trial.

Death From Superstition.
A superstitious Buddhist caused a man's death in Mura, Japan. A dealer in clogs went mad, owing to money troubles. His wife and his sister consulted a Buddhist. The ignorant devotee, believing that the man was possessed by a fox, advised them to take him to Nose temple. In accordance with the request of the man's relatives the devotee took the lunatic to Nose temple, where he threw him in a pool beneath a waterfall known as Shintaki, holding him fast there with ropes. He repeated the process for a few days. Needless to say the lunatic's health suffered considerably by this extraordinary treatment. A few days later, at about 4 a. m., the zealot threw the lunatic in the basin of the waterfall as usual and left him there for a few hours. Before he returned the man died from exhaustion and cold. Amazed at this result the ignorant bigot buried the body in a temple known as Takusoni in the same village, and made out that the lunatic had died from a sudden illness. The police, however, heard of the affair and arrested the man.

Flood-Lighting System Aids Airmen.
The practice field for use by the aviation section of the signal corps at Hempstead, N. Y., has been provided with 12 powerful flood-light projectors which mark the area of those members of the section that are taking a course in night flying. The most conspicuous piece of equipment for this lighting system is a searchlight of 1,500,000 candle power, which has an effective range of 8,000 yards. This powerful light is employed in "picking up" airmen as they fly over the field looking for a landing place. It also serves as a lighthouse for the mariners of the sky. The great beacon was used for the first time last January. Regular Mechanics Magazine.

Halcyon Days.

"Halcyon days" was the name given by the Greeks to the seven days which precede and follow the shortest day of the year. The reference is to an old fable which states that during this time of year, when the halcyon, or kingfisher, was breeding, there was calm at sea. From this tradition the phrase "halcyon days" has come to signify a period of peace and tranquillity.

Speaking From Experience.

To Work Is to Worship.

Queer Chinese Custom.

In China every member of a family is responsible for order in that family, and every inhabitant of a city is jointly responsible with every other citizen for its tranquillity. If a younger son in a family should commit a crime, the older son is likely to be taken into custody for the offense and, perhaps, punished.

What Warships Cost.

A modern giant battle cruiser will cost approximately $20,000,000; a superdreadnought can be built for $18,000,000; a scout cruiser for $6,000,000; a destroyer for $1,300,000; while ordinary submarines cost $600,000 each for the smaller type, and from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000 each for the larger boats.

Looking Backward.

FOR BETTER ROADS

SMALL PAVING BLOCKS USED

They Are Proving Popular in Rural Regions in Europe—First Laid in New York State.

For a number of years country roads in parts of Germany, Austria and other European countries have been paved with small cubes of stone but it is not so generally known that small-block pavements have been laid in the United States. They are believed to have been introduced first by J. Y. McClintock, county superintendent of Monroe county, N. Y. After an experience of ten years or so, he recommends the use of blocks of vitrified clay, measuring 2 1/4 inches on each side. These are laid on a base of gravel, macadam, concrete or broken slag, which is usually made wider than the pavement. In order to support the gravel or broken stone laid beside the cubes to form hard shoulders to carry vehicles that are forced to turn out of the main roadway. During the last year about six miles of such pavement were put down in the county.

Mr. McClintock holds that this type of construction is desirable where a substantial base is already in place, as in the case of an old gravel or macadam road which is not worn out, or a base can be constructed at low cost. The vitrified blocks are often laid by unskilled labor, properly supervised, with entirely satisfactory results.

Another type of small-block pavement was recently laid on the Morris-town turnpike in New Jersey, which carries a heavy traffic. There is a section of this road about 1,200 feet long having a 7 per cent grade, where it was decided to try small granite blocks in the hope that their numerous joints would reduce the tendency to slip and skid on this rather steep slope. The blocks are 3 to 4-inch cubes and were laid on a thin foundation. They were not laid in rows but in curved lines, forming a mosaic pattern, and the joints were filled with fine stone and a grout of cement and sand.

PIONEER GOOD ROAD BUILDER

Over $120,000,000 Expended or Pledged During Last Two Decades in New York State.

Twenty years ago New York embarked upon its policy of state aid for the construction, maintenance and repair of state, county and township highways. Since that time approximately 20,000 of the total mileage, estimated to exceed 80,000, have been improved.

As a pioneer in the good roads movement, the Empire state has always occupied first rank. Over $120,000,000 has been expended or pledged during the last two decades for highway construction.

CONVICTS BUILD GOOD ROADS

Prison Camps No Longer in Experimental Stage in Oklahoma—Accepted Institution.

In Oklahoma prison road camps are no longer in the experimental stage, says the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor. They have become an accepted institution in the state. In the central and southwest sections prisoners are building the Ozark jail; in the southeast, they are grading the Jefferson highway, and in other districts they are assisting in the local good road movement.

Illinois Is Earnest.

The state of Illinois will put to its voters at the 1918 election the question of issuing $30,000,000 in highway bonds, the interest and retiring fund for which is to be provided for by an increase in the motor vehicle registration fees.

Drainage and Foundation.

Drainage and a good foundation are the first considerations in improving a road with a hard surface. The first possible foundation is a good earth road with a low crown.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

RICH MISS HEN.

"Cock-a-doodle-do," shouted Mr. Rooster.

"Cluck, cluck, cluck," said Miss Hen. "Cock-a-doodle-do," crowed Grandfather Red Top Rooster.

Such a noise as there was in the barnyard and all because a great many automobiles had gone by. Mr. Rooster was the first to complain.

"Once," he said, "my great-grandfather objected to these automobiles because he said that their honk-honk was noticed far more than his clucking."

"To be sure it would be, too," said Miss Hen, who was rather nervous. "Poor great-grandfather might have been run over and killed by one and there is always that awful chance that an automobile might."

"You are so nervous," said Mr. Rooster. "But the reason my great-grandfather minded it so much was because he said he felt it was taking attention away from him which he thought he deserved."

"I see," said Miss Hen. "Still I can't help noticing an automobile myself. It's so noisy and it's more unusual than crowing."

"I am not so sure about that," said Grandfather Red Top Rooster. "I really believe that a rooster is more of a treat these days than an automobile. Think of the numbers that go by one after the other, day after day. And each year there are more."

"You know," said Miss Hen, who was really very vain and tried to put on many airs, "I thought of getting one myself."

"You were going to get an automobile?" asked Mr. Rooster, who was the first one able to speak. "And pray tell, how could you have done such a thing? Who would have run it for you?"

"I Would Have Gone About the Countryside."

Where would you have gone? How could you have paid for it? They say they cost a great deal of real money. "Ah," said Miss Hen, "you all think I am very foolish, but I am not. No, indeed, I am not foolish at all. I am very sensible. I know what I am talking about. I could have had an automobile if I wanted. I know how to do things. I have an excellent business head for a hen."

The other creatures looked at Miss Hen in surprise. She had always been so fond of putting on airs, they thought this was one too. Yet they couldn't understand how Miss Hen could say such things if she didn't mean some of them.

"You have asked me a great many questions," said Miss Hen. "I cannot answer them all at the same time. But I will answer each one separately." And she cleared her throat.

"First of all," she said, "comes the question, how I could have done such a thing. I would have bought the automobile with money I can earn and earn easily too. There! The first answer!" Miss Hen chuckled delightedly.

Every creature in the barnyard was looking at her. It made her feel very important.

"The second question, who would have run it for me. Well, ladies run their own automobiles. I can earn and run my own. I would have had one made my size—they make them all sizes you know—and it would have just fitted me.

"The third question asking me where I would have gone can easily be answered by saying that I would have gone about the countryside, selling eggs to different farmers, wherever I could have made the most money. That is the main thing with automobile owners. It costs so much to keep them going. They say when they stop to mend a tire here that I would need to make as much money as I could."

"And there is my answer to your fourth question. I would have made the money to pay for it by selling eggs. They go up in price all the time. I could have had an automobile. I am no longer a poor hen to be despised and to be teased, teased at by other folks' horns. No, I am a hen, a great and useful hen. A money-making hen. An egg-selling hen."

The other creatures stared at her in wonder and admiration. "But why didn't you buy one?" asked Grandfather Red Top Rooster, after a long pause.

"Because," said Miss Hen, "they are too common. I didn't want to spend my summer doing nothing but stirring up dust."

Live Man Doesn't Wait.

Time and tide wait for no man. The live man doesn't wait for time or tide.

EASY QUESTION TO DECIDE

No One Need Long Hesitate to Decide Between What Is Right and What Is Wrong.

There is one great trouble among men, and that is because they have of clear convictions of what is right and what is wrong. They go through life with their thoughts all confused upon this subject, and very often take the wrong side almost as a natural result. But everybody should have a clear idea of what is right and wrong, for if they do and make use of the knowledge their lives will be happier and society exalted. A few questions will make plain the rightness or wrongness of a matter in question: On which side of this issue is reverence, honesty, purity, unselfishness, candor? If these do not figure on a side of an issue, you may be sure it is the wrong side. If there is an omission of any one of these qualities it is the wrong side.

Judgment in these matters of everyday life, upon which a person wants to be right, can easily be reached by interposing these questions. Suppose upon the common experience of voting there may be some doubt; just ask these questions concerning the candidate and you will find it is a very easy matter to be on the right side. Does the candidate suggest reverence, honesty, purity, unselfishness, candor? If not, he is on the wrong side; it makes no difference what party badge he may wear. If you want to be right you will vote against him. The same rule will apply in all the concerns of life.—Ohio State Journal.

ENGAGEMENT WANTED.

"I hear your folks is movin' to-day, James?"
"Yep, an' I only hopes we git inter a neighborhood where I kin 'lick somebody."

NEW MODE FOR THE LADIES.

The announcement that trousers, or some other variant of the "bifurcated petticoat," is to be the next "eri" in modish apparel for women seems to have produced less sensation than its promulgators hoped. During a "watch of death" the caprices and frivolities of feminine smartness cannot be expected to interest the people of this or any other country.

And what if the women shall wear trousers or trouserettes, tricked out and adorned with every conceivable device known to the repertory of coquetry? Scheherazade wore trousers, as have her myriad sister sultanas, and who shall say that Zenobia, Semiramis, and Sheba's queen did not? A fashion may entertain us, amuse, delight, but as to striking us blind or dumb in amazement—well, hardly in these times!—New York Globe.

FIGHT WORMS IN GAS MASKS.

Men wearing gas masks have attacked the wood worm, estobium tessellatum, which has been eating the woodwork in Westminster hall, London, for four centuries. They used a spray of 50 per cent tetrachlorethane, a perfect but dangerous insecticide. The larvae eat only oak.

Thus science has been called to the rescue of one of the oldest halls in the world. The expert is Prof. Maxwell Lefroy, inventor of the fly spray, announced a year ago.

INDISPENSABLE.

"I will make you a speaking likeness of your wife."
"You'll have to make it a likeness."

WHAT HE COULD DO.

"Do you know the words of the Star-Spangled Banner?"
"No, but I know and while the others sing it."
